BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
AILY'S ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended ith a degree of success highly gratefu the inventor's feelings in several parts f the West Indies and in the Southern nd Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person an be adduced, who have reason to be eve that a timely use of this salutary re edy has, under Providence, preserved eir lives when in the most alarming cir umstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak ore in favour of a medicine than co umns of pompous eulogy founded on ere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously pro osed as an infallible cure, but the inven r has every possible reason that can re ult from extensive experience for be eving that a dose of these Pills taken nce in every two weeks during the pre alence of our bilious fevers, will prove n infallible preventive; and further, hat in the earlier stages of those diseases heir use will very generally succeed in estoring health, and frequently in cases steemed desperate and beyond the pow r of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly ild, so as to be used with safety by per ons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its mor id secretions—to restore and amend the ppetite—to produce a free perspiration nd thereby prevent colds which are of ten of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for re moving habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from Peter Graham, living near Middleburg, Loudoun county, Va. on the night of the 25th of March last, a very likely Negro girl, named ANN, purchased of Wm. Noland, living at Aldie, Loudoun county, whose family she was raised in. She is of a yellow complexion, round faced, thick lips, with large staring eyes, and rather delicate featured for a slave;—small feet, a tolerable ready speech, and mild with it; about 18 years of age, middle size, and very well made; rather thick, about 5 feet high from appearance. She had on when she went away a dress of coating cloth, made in a coat and jacket, with skirts of a brown snuff color. I have reason to believe she is in or near Philadelphia or New-York. I will give fifty dollars reward if taken in Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, or Fairfax counties, or the District of Columbia, if taken in any other county or state, and secured in any jail, so that I obtain information and get her. MONDAY, JANUARY 26, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Saturday, January 24, 1818.

I believe it is the witty and whimsical Dean of St. Patrick's, who, descanting upon the expedition and facility with which a work that may have taken a world and all of labor and time in arriving at perfection, is often annihilated by a single stroke, illustrates his position by a reference to the well known fate of young chickens, which though they take many days in hatching, are devoured in one minute by some glutton when dished up nicely to his palate. That illustration would not be inapplicable to some measuses in our house of representatives which seem as if they were brought into existence, only to make a little noise and then sink into annihilation. How many days, for instance, did the commutation bill take in hatching? What cackling, and crowing, and picking, and sparring, in argumentation, 'till at length, in the very moment when least expected, comes a death blow in the shape of an argument, and down it goes into the gulf of oblivion, never to be heard of more. In a word, after all the eloquence for so many weary days bestowed upon it, it was yesterday rejected; and if it be a sin to have occasioned that fate to it, all the waters in the Potomac will not wash a certain lawyer of Pennsylvania clean of it.

Just as the question of its passing was about to be put, with all the dull and dread formality of yeas and nays, rises that Mr. Hopkinson, and begged leave only to say a few words, not by way of discussing or debating the question, but for the more harmless purpose of explaining his reasons for having uniformly opposed the bill, and for delaring, as he now did, that he could not countenance it in any shape. He then went on and unnecessary to open a transaction which had been honorably closed. That government had made a fair bargain with the soldiers, to their entire satisfaction, which bargain it had honorably fulfilled. Why then meddle with it any more?—Why, without any just cause, draw such a large sum of money from the public coffers, when there were already claims enough upon the treasury? If the house had left justice undone, there might be some pretence for the measure; but that was not the case—ample justice had been done to the soldiers, and there the house ought to stop. As an act of generosity, if it was intended for such, it could not be defended. The house had no right to be generous. When he held this language, his meaning in it was, that it was the duty of the house to take that discreet care of the public treasury which any prudent individual of them would take of his own property; and beyond that they had no right to go in generosity. If their object was, as some had asserted, to take care of men who could not take care of themselves, he bid them be careful that they did not let that principle carry them further than they were aware of. Their parental care of such persons, however well intended, would be thrown away. To think of taking care of persons of that description, would be vain and idle.—Drunkards would still drink their last dollar, and gamblers would still throw dice for their last foot of land, whatever the house might attempt for their protection. As to the supposition that any advantage could be derived by government from buying back the land, when it had already more land than it could dispose of in a century, it was a fallacious notion; since an addition to a stock already overcharged, could be no advantage. It was indeed a strange kind of political economy to give the active money out of the treasury for lands that were valueless. As to its withdrawing competition from the sale of public lands, the settling of the lands by new settlers, whether they were the soldiers themselves or the persons who bought their rights, would counterbalance any diminution of value created by competition. And he expressed his persuasion that if government bought the lands, the soldiers, when they had spent the money, would still look to the generosity of congress, and a door would be thrown open to claims and petitions for years.—These, he said, were the reasons of his opposition. Mr. Robertson spoke in reply, but I could not hear him. The question on passing the bill was then taken by ayes and noes and negatived.

Noes 82

So the bill was rejected.

LATEST INDIAN NEWS.

Copy of a letter from general Mitchell, agent of Indian affairs, to the governor of this state, dated Creek Agency, Jan. 8.

SIR,—The messenger who was sent below to propose terms of peace to the Seminoles has returned; and the enclosed is the substance of his report, which I received by express.

The friendly chiefs and warriors are to meet me at this place on the 11th inst. and I have great hopes that our differences with the Seminoles can, with their assistance, be adjusted.

I understand that much apprehension prevails about the safety with which travellers can pass through the nation. It is my opinion that there is not the least danger in travelling the road from Fort Hawkins to the Alabama, by this place [illegible] travellers to use the road from Fort Perry to Fort Gaines, or, indeed, any road as low down as Fort Gaines for the present.

I am, with high respect and esteem, your very obedient servant,

D. B. MITCHELL, Agent I. A.

His excellency Wm. Rabun,
Governor, &c.

Talk of Tustennugee Hopoie, and Hopoie Haijo, to the agent of Indian affairs for the Creek nation.

Fort Mitchell, Dec. 30.

MY FRIEND,—The messenger which was sent to the Mickasukies has returned with an answer to our talk. The Mickasukies say it was not them that began the war. They were sitting down in peace, and the white people came on them in the night and fired on them.—The Mickasukies are all sitting down in their town and doing no mischief, and waiting to see if the white people will make peace with them. The people that shot at the boat and killed all the white people were the old Red Sticks from the Upper towns, them that turned hostiles last war. The man that was sent to the Mickasukies (Hopoie Haijo) with a peace talk, met the Mickasukies at the half way ground coming with a peace talk to us. Mr. Hambley and Mr. Doyle were taken prisoners. Hopoie Haijo saw them. Tustennugee Chapco has gone to relieve them, and carry them to the fort at St. Marks.

I have sent you this little talk now; our meeting that you appointed will soon be, and then every thing will be made straight. We hear that the army has crossed at Hartford. The Cheehaws have received two letters from the army, and they had nobody to read them, and they don't know the contents; and wish the army could be stopped until our meeting is over.

(Signed) TUSTENNUGEE HOPOIE.
(Signed) HOPOIE HAIJO.

☞ Gen. Mitchell, in a letter to the editors of the Journal, dated the 9th inst. observes, "There does not appear to be any thing new in this quarter, except the prospect of peace with the Seminoles."

FROM THE ARMY.

An express arrived at the executive office yesterday, with the following despatch from general Gaines:

Head-quarters, Hartford, Geo. January 8, 1818.

SIR,—I received on my way to this place the 5th inst. from lieut. colonel Arbuckle, reports of the state of his command up to the 21st December; by which I learn that the detachment with transports under major Muhlenburg had been attacked about thirty miles below Fort Scott by a force of Indians and blacks, estimated at from 8 to 1200—that the firing had continued from both sides of the river from the 15th to the 19th Dec and that our loss amounted to 2 killed and 18 wounded—the loss of the enemy not known. The vessels were so fortified with bulwarks as to secure our troops from the enemy's shot, except when carrying out the anchors to warp, or when working with the rigging.

The loss of a vessel is not apprehended; nor will the delay be likely to produce any serious consequences to our troops above, their supplies being sufficient for some time beyond the period at which others I have ordered, and have reason to believe are on the way, are expected to arrive; and which will be taken up the river in keel boats, secured against the enemy's shot.

A small work commanded by captain M'Intosh, 12 miles above Fort Scott, had been attacked and surrounded for several days by a large party; but, although the captain's force amounted to no more than forty, he maintained his work without the loss of a man. The Indians, finding themselves unable to make any impression upon the work or garrison, and having suffered from our shot, retired.—Captain M'Intosh's command has since been withdrawn.

A friendly chief, Wm. Perryman, having raised a considerable party of warriors on the Chatahochie, for the purpose of protecting the friendly traders below the line, and of aiding our troops, was attacked by the hostile party, and is supposed to have fallen, with Messrs. Hambly and Doyle. It is reported that most of the party were forced (perhaps willingly) to join the enemy.

I have received information that a party of Indians entered the settlement near Trader's Hill a few days past, killed a woman, whose name I have not learned, and took off some three or four negroes.*

I had previously ordered a detachment of artillery, with two companies of the militia, drawn from major gen. Floyd's division, to take post at Trader's Hill, for the defence of that settlement. I have reason to believe the artillery arrived at the Hill about the time the murder was committed, and the militia soon after; and that the Indians were pursued.

The residue of the militia taken from major gen. Floyd's division (five companies) are ordered to this place, for the purpose of reinforcing general Glascock's command, excepting one company, which will be posted near the Big Bend of Ocmulgee.

The detachment under brigadier gen. Glascock, delayed by rainy weather, bad roads, and want of punctuality in the contractor's department, will not be able to form a junction with the United States' [illegible] of the present month; and as a great part of the detachment will probably be disposed to return home soon after the end of the month, there is reason to apprehend the time will be too limited to make such an impression upon the savages (which one decisive victory would effect) as to put an end to the war, and leave them convinced that their future safety will depend alone upon the strict observance of peace on their part.

I have therefore to request the favor of your excellency, to furnish an additional detachment of militia, to consist of four battalions of infantry, with four companies of riflemen, to assemble at this place on the first of the next month, prepared for a three months tour of duty, in the service of the United States.

I shall make arrangements for the necessary supplies to be in readiness at this place in due time, for arming, equipping and subsisting the detachment.

I have the honor to be, with high consideration and respect, your obedient servant, EDMUND P. GAINES,
Maj. Gen. Com'g.

His Ex: Gov. Rabun,

* This does not accord very well with the late pacific professions of the Indians. Editors Journal.

☞ We understand it is the intention of the Governor to comply with the above requisition as far as may be in his power. Four companies of riflemen cannot be furnished, because it is believed there are not so many in the state; and there is no likelihood, at this inclement season, of their volunteering. From the defects of our militia laws, with regard to the election of officers, it will be impossible to organize the infantry, & march them to the place of rendezvous, by the first of next month. The troops called for, we are informed, will be taken from Byne's, Bell's (of Oglethorpe) and Glascock's brigades.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

Capt. Waite, in the fine ship Ann Maria, arrived this morning in 40 days from Liverpool. The editors of the Gazette have received papers from London and Liverpool, to the 8th and 10th of December, from which, and from Lloyd's Lists and Price Current, they give the following hasty summary:—

A bulletin of the king's health had been issued at Windsor on the 11th of December, which states, that "his majesty had been uniformly composed through the last month, and has enjoyed good general health, though his disorder continued unchanged."

It appears from Dublin papers of the 3d, that the typhus fever raged in certain parts of Ireland. In the space of 26 days, 246 patients were received into the fever hospital of Limerick, which considerably exceeded the number discharged in that interval.

M. Las Casas, the friend of Bonaparte, had arrived at Brussels, and set off for Aix-La Chapelle.

The emperor of Austria had returned to Vienna, having performed a tour thro' great part of his dominions.

Addresses of condolence to the Prince Regent, for the loss of the Princess, were pouring in from all parts of G. Britain.

Our Liverpool Letter and Price Current of the 6th Dec. states the following prices:—

Sugar, musco. dry brown, 72 to 76, having declined 1s. per cwt. Coffee, or. in demand at 86 to 86s 6d. Cotton, from public sales, for Sea Island, 2s 4d. for middling to 2s 7d. for rather fine stained, 19 1-4. for very ord. to 2s 2d. for good N. Orleans 18 1-4 to 22 1-4; bowed Georgia, 18 1-2 to 22d. London, Nov. 27.

We yesterday learnt that there had been a serious tumult at Kiddermimster, owing to a combination of journeymen to raise their wages, and that considerable damage had been done. Dispatches arrived in town on Tuesday evening, and steps were immediately taken to suppress the riot.

November 28.

The Plague having horribly depopulated Algiers, the new Dey has commanded that all the unmarried men, above 20 years of age, should be conducted to the public place, and amply gratified with the bastinado, to give them a desire for wedlock.—This is the prelude to a new empire of women, which is about to be established among the barbarians; and it must be said that the education of the young men has commenced even before marriage.

November 29.

Parliament meets for the dispatch of business on Wednesday the 27th of January. The proclamation for assembling it on that day, was, we believe, signed by the Prince Regent, at the Council held at Brighton, the day before yesterday.

Young Ashford, it seems, has been denizened, which it is said exempts him from Abraham Thornton's plea of Wager of Battle.

December 8.

Several of the minor states of Germany, have acceded to the treaty of Holy Alliance, at the request of the Emperor of Austria.

It is said the present vice chancellor, will be the next master of the rolls, and that Mr. Leach, will succeed Sir T. Plumer in the vice chancellorship.

Lavalette now resides six miles from Munich, under a different name.

According to the last census, the present population of France is 29,045,099 inhabitants.

Corn Exchange, December 8.—We had a good supply of wheat from Essex this morning, yet fine samples are ready sale, & are from 2 to 4s per quarter dearer than on this day week. Fine Barley is also 4s per quarter dearer than on Monday, having but little of that description at Market. Peas and Beans are 2s per quarter lower, the arrivals of those articles being large. Oats are 1s per quarter dearer, and brisk sale at that advance.

Wheat, English, 76s. 90s. 94s.; do old none; foreign, 66s. 86s 105s.; fine flour, 75s. a 80s.

Sir James Lucas Yeo will proceed to his command on the coast of Africa, in a few days. The Semiramus went out of Portsmouth harbor on Tuesday.

At a late hour this morning we received a Flanders mail, from which we give the following important extracts:—

Brussels, December 9. All the doubts which still subsisted, respecting the retirement of his Royal Highness the Prince of Orange, from his military employment has now ceased; it is no longer doubtful that the Prince has demanded his discharge, and that, by a decree of his Majesty, of the 15th November, it has been accepted.

December 3.—When we announced the retirement of His Royal Highness the Prince of Orange, from all his military employments, it would have been more agreeable for us to be able to doubt of what seemed yet to be only a public rumour: but we were unhappily too well informed to have the consolation of doubt, and it was unjustly the same persons seemed to have blamed us, for having alarmed the public by a piece of news so liable to doubt.

On the 20th of last month it was officially noticed at the Hague to the Ministers and heads of Departments, according to the tenor of the decree—and the Mercury of Antwerp informs us to-day, "that by an order of the day, dated the 30th of November, it has been signified to the troops stationed in the Fourth Military Division, (chief town Antwerp) that his Majesty, by an Ordinance of the 15th of the same month, has granted to his Royal Highness, the Hereditary Prince, the discharge from all his Military employments, which the Prince had solicited."

The removal of the Hereditary Prince from the general administration of the War Department, with which he has become so well acquainted from his earliest youth, and his quitting the command of the troops who adored him, have filled with grief all hearts in the Netherlands. There is not any person who does not wish that this removal may not be of long duration, and we doubt not but that these wishes will be attended to, for on this occasion, the well known axiom may be justly applied, Vox populi, Vox Dei.

A Russian Commissioner who came on board the Patricker Russian Frigate from Revel, arrived in town yesterday, and immediately waited on the Spanish Ambassador, to fulfil the instructions of his Government by resigning to His Excellency the disposal of the Russian squadron which has just reached the British shores. In the first instance it will be ordered to Portsmouth, and after receiving on board some necessaries, it will proceed to Spain.

MISTAKES RESPECTING AMERICA.

The following judicious remarks are extracted from a communication in the New-York Evening Post, of the 13th instant, exposing the mistakes entertained by foreigners relative to the U. States, and which certain political writers in England have found it convenient both to fabricate and diffuse:

"I institute no comparison between the attainments of Americans and foreigners in the higher departments of science; but I have always imagined that actual residence, research and observation were among the best qualifications, if not indispensable requisites in a writer of original geography; and when I see a respectable work on this country published in Paris in 1816, deriving its authority and copying its accounts from the compilations (among others) of the veritable Weld and Henry, who ended his travels in 1776; and when I see the prospectus of Mr. Warden, speaking of twenty-one states and five territories;—and find in one of the most superb and respectable atlasses ever published in the English language, from the first engravers and geographers in London, (by the Neeles, in 1814) a state of Franklinia elegantly delineated, a New-Jersey district on the Mississippi, and the Indiana territory placed in Virginia, I cannot but suspect a general deficiency in the means of information, or a wilful design to deceive and mislead, in the transatlantic authors and compilers of maps and geographies of the United States.

"Nor can I but view it as somewhat singular, in any writer, however distinguished by his talents and erudition, that he should advance as a principal qualification for writing a history and description of the United States, a residence of ten years at three thousand miles distant from the country! How strangely malapropos is the case of Michaux, quoted as a successful instance of a work upon America by a foreign author! Michaux, father and son, personally explored the country, with great labor, care and assiduity, by traversing and examining it on foot, in different directions, from the state of Georgia to Canada, and published the result of their actual observations and personal remarks. Of what European geographer can as much be said? This was materially different from a residence in Paris of ten years, and reading ten thousand newspapers' there.

"I complain, generally, of a disposition in my countrymen to patronize exotic talent and enterprize in preference to American genius and undertakings.—I mention the case of a respectable gentleman purchasing a map of the United States, published in Paris, at a price of twenty dollars, after refusing to pay ten for Bradley's. I censure no foreigner for making books for us, when he knows they will be preferred to those of our own manufacture. On the contrary, I most cheerfully yield my gratitude and applause for the incalculable benefits we have derived from them. But for information of the nature, character, features, history, statistics and geology of our country—knowledge to be derived only from the personal experience of authors or compilations of editors, I conceive the United States, as the source, ought to be the seat and repository of intelligence, whether the publication be intended for European or American readers. To extend and diffuse correct information is a laudable attempt, and by a people so ignorant as the readers of our French compilation must be, should be gratefully received and liberally supported. On the side the Atlantic the case is entirely different.

"But a more serious complaint, Mr. Editor, I must prefer against European Savans, who, with means of infinitely better knowledge within their power, embody and disseminate the most insufficient, incorrect and injurious accounts of the United States. I strongly suspect a design in these admirers of legitimate royalty, to 'belittle' and misrepresent from political motives, every moral quality and statistical fact in this growing republic. Else why publish accounts of our condition and history, written twenty or thirty years preceding, omitting and neglecting a period in which the United States have doubled in almost every thing, and (represent the state of the country in 1775 as its actual condition in 1816? Why are the French reader told, for instance, that in 1816 Mr. Jefferson was president; a fact mentioned only to show the period in which the volume was written, notwithstanding a particular statement of the different sections written by the several compilers in every year? Our navy and army [illegible] given at 5,000 troops, 6 frigates, &c. with remarks on its weakness. Mr. Madison's militia of 700,000, it is stated, would be more correctly 150,000. A few other blunders, wilful or not, follow:

"In New-England the language is (said to be) so corrupted, that an Englishman can scarcely understand an American phrase!

"The pretended reformed religions prevail, but in Maryland the Catholics are most numerous!

"The 'vagabondage' of the emigrants is described in a peculiar style.

"The president is elected for 7 years!

"Plymouth, Mass. has 19,000 inhabitants, and Boston 20,000.

"In Boston the Marine Society is placed at the head of the learned institutions!

"Connecticut produces rice as a staple—and imports it from the West Indies!

"The population of New-York is estimated at 330,000, up to 1795 only! And in this region commences the horrible yellow fever, which figures through the southern states, as annually depopulating the towns and cities! A silver mine in this state! One bank in the city, besides a branch of the United States.

"In Philadelphia 70,000 inhabitants; the grossness of the lower classes surprising strangers. Yellow fever again.

"In Ohio, trees 40 feet in circumference. Maize, bacon, milk and butter, the food of the people—seldom any thing else found. Inhabitants live in cabins or log houses.

"Bilious and yellow fevers in Virginia; gouging described; one-eyed men numerous.

"No church in Richmond—preach in the capitol, &. &c. &c. ad infinitum.

"Upon the whole, I am not of opinion with a learned and modest editor of a morning print, that the inhabitants of this country are better judges than Europeans of the events of the eastern continent. (the author of said idea alone excepting:) nor am I convinced that the citizens of the United States would be more likely to profit by compilations from Weld, Ashe, Henry, or later European travellers, than from the researches, disquisitions and labors of native or resident geographers, statists and writers, on the peculiar state and affairs of North America. On the score of advantage, then, and on the general principle of encouraging merit in the most natural and beneficial manner, as well as from motives of common patriotism, or national pride, I wish to see the U. States independent of foreigners on subjects of local interest and knowledge, liberal in fostering native talent and enterprise, and vindicated, in one particular at least, from the charge made, or quoted, by our Parisian Savan, that 'Les republiques ont toujours été ingrates.'

LITERARY NOTICE.

AMERICAN EDITION OF
DR. REES's NEW CYCLOPÆDIA.

The publishers beg leave to inform their subscribers, that vol. XXXVII, part II. (being the 74th number) is now ready for delivery.

When the undersigned became proprietors of this work, it appeared to be the general and anxious wish of the subscribers, to have it completed with all possible expedition; and every exertion has been made by the publishers to meet those wishes. In the space of two years they have published twenty-five half volumes or Parts, seventeen of which (exclusive of a volume of plates) have been published in the course of the last year—a rapidity of execution which they believe has never been exceeded in any country. It has ever been the sincere desire of the publishers to fulfil their engagements to the subscribers to this great work with punctuality: and they have reason therefore to expect, on the part of the subscribers, a corresponding punctuality.

The American publishers have now printed this work as far as they have received the London copy; and as soon as they receive the few remaining numbers, which they have reason to believe will not exceed four, the American edition will be finished with all possible despatch.

This work already contains upwards of eight hundred Engravings; and, when completed, will probably (with the extra volumes of Plates) amount to one thousand. These plates will comprehend, as they believe, upwards of five thousand different subjects, in all the various departments of the Arts and Sciences. The engravings of the Portraits of distinguished American characters, promised to be given in the work, are nearly completed, and will be ready (with two volumes of extra plates) with the last number.

Those subscribers, who have not yet taken up their volumes, are once more notified, that two hundred and fifty copies less of each of the last twenty five numbers have been printed than of the preceding forty-nine; and, that, owing to this arrangement, which was rendered necessary by the neglect of distant subscribers to take up their books, and other uncontrolable circumstances, there must, inevitably, be upwards of two hundred and fifty sets left incomplete at the close of the publication. Those who, through neglect or improper delay, may hereafter find their application for the completion of their sets too late, will have no reasonable cause of complaint against any one but themselves, as all the subscribers youth, and his quitting the command of the troops who adored him, have filled with grief all hearts in the Netherlands. There is not any person who does not wish that this removal may not be of long duration, and we doubt not but that these wishes will be attended to, for on this occasion, the well known axiom may be justly applied, Vox populi, Vox Dei.

To the Flour and Rice Millers OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN,—It appears that many have refused to pay for license to use my improvements in the art of manufacturing flour, and in lessening the labor in rice mills, waiting the decision of the United States' courts; while many others have paid freely the sums I demanded for my license; there can exist no reason why some should pay and others be exempt. There has already been a sufficient number of decisions establishing the law, that each infringer is liable to pay treble my actual damages, which cannot be rated at less than the value of the use of my property during the infringement. I have expended the greatest part of a long, arduous, and indefatigable life in study and exertions to invent and introduce into useful operation several important and highly useful improvements, from which great benefits are derived to the users, and I could have put in operation many more equally useful, but was prevented by the unjustifiable opposition, wasting the profits of those in operation, which I had intended to apply to put others in operation which I had discovered; but which now lay dormant, to my great mortification and the public injury. I come into the courts claiming remuneration for my time and labor—the great expenses that I have incurred in advertising repeatedly over the United States, and in my agents travelling for many years to make the utility of the improvements known, and to instruct millwrights to make, and millers to use them. The law contemplates that I shall receive ample remuneration, and by it I was encouraged to risk the great expenses. I have repeatedly published that the price of my license for the remainder of the term should be, the full price of the labor and boarding saved by the use of my improvements in one year only, with lawful interest until paid; but to those who infringed my rights, and refused to pay when called on, I would, beginning with the year ending January 22, 1815, count the sum saved in labor and boarding during the last year (equal to the first price) as a new sum becoming due, and running on interest also; and so on, the 22d day of January in each and every year thereafter a new sum saved in labor and boarding becomes due, and runs on interest until license be purchased, demanding the interest only on all these sums, leaving the principal in the hands of the users; which is the least I can receive of them to meet the expenses which they have compelled me to incur. The above are now the only terms on which my agents are instructed to grant licenses, and they are instructed to institute suits against all infringers without giving them another call.

Those who wish to purchase licenses may apply to John Love, esq. Buckland, Prince William county, or to capt. John Moody, Richmond, Va.

OLIVER EVANS.

NOTE.—Persons using Mr. Evans' improvements, or parts of them, unpaid for, will be sued if they do not discharge the claim on application. Mr. William H. Alexander has, under my authority from Mr. Evans, been empowered to receive payments and deliver licenses to use his improvements. Payments, therefore, made to him, John Moody, or myself, will alone be valid, and save the expense of suit and treble damages to the defendants. JOHN LOVE.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward for taking up and delivering to me in Alexandria, or lodging in jail so that I get him again, negro man WILLIAM, who eloped from Washington, D. C. (where he was hired) about 8 weeks ago. William is about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, tolerably well made, yellow complexion, large mouth, very white teeth, and to the best of my recollection a scar on his right cheek—he is very fond of drink, and when intoxicated is a great reprobate and excessively noisy. His cloathing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit. BENJ. T. FENDALL.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.—Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment,

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in
Consumptions	the stomach and
Lowness of spirits	back
Loss of appetite	Indigestion
Impurity of b'ood	Melancholy
Hysteric'l affection	Gout in the stomach
Inward weaknesses	Pains in the limbs
and debility	Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.
